

Frontier Before the Revolution

Modern Canada

- Democracy
- Elected by parliament
- Able to pass laws by majority vote
- Has consent of the people through elections
- Elected prime minister
- Voted by parliament

BASIC THEORY OF GOVERNMENT

POWER OF GOVERNMENT

LEADER

Pre-Rev France

- Absolute ruler
- No elected officials
- King has absolute power to make most laws
- People not consulted
- King's power due to "Divine right"

France Before the Revolution

Modern Canada

- Democracy
- Elected by parliament
- Able to pass laws by majority vote
- Has consent of the people through elections
- Elected prime minister
- Voted by parliament

BASIC THEORY
OF GOVERNMENT

POWER OF GOVERNMENT

LEADER

Pre-Rev France

- Absolute ruler
- No elected officials
- King has absolute power to make most laws
- People not consulted
- King's power due to "Divine right"

France Before the Revolution

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

LEGAL RIGHTS

TAX SYSTEM