

Minority Education Rights

- Section 23 of the Charter says that a French-speaking or English-speaking minority population of sufficient size in any province has the right to publicly funded schools that serve their language community.
- What benefits and challenges result from this?

Impact of the past...

1608

- Samuel de Champlain founds the city of Quebec, and establishes New France in North America.

1774

- Britain passes the Quebec Act, recognizing the rights of Francophones to their language and identity

1867

- Confederation establishes Canada as a bilingual, bicultural nation under the BNA.