

Lunar Calendars

- Most civilizations used lunar calendars or 28 days
- This did not equal a true year
- The summer months would soon become winter months with too few days in the lunar year
- Different civilizations had different solutions for this dilemma

2000 years ago

- Greeks added ninety days every eight years to correct the drift
- Jewish people added a month every three years
- Chinese added seven months every nineteen years
- But . . .