Reaction to the NEP in Western Canada

- Alberta's oil and gas industry suffered under the NEP
- Related trades, such as construction, suffered
- Unemployment rose sharply
- Some people in Western Canada discussed western separation
- The federal liberal government was seen as "the enemy" of the west
- Scholars calculated the program "cost Alberta between $50 and $100 billion."

Fiscal Capacity and Equalization, by Province (FY 2018-19)

Displays each province's own fiscal capacity, the equalization payment required to bring it up to an 'average' level, and the 'adjustment payment' to fix the pool of equalization paid. In 2018/19, adjustments totalled $1.76b.

Provincial 'Tax Effort' in 2016-17

Displays actual revenue from tax bases included in equalization, relative to potential revenue if national average tax rates were applied. Excluding natural resources.
