

THE CABINET

The cabinet includes the people with responsibility for different government departments and agencies — or portfolios — such as health, finance and environment. The members of cabinet belong to the leading political party in the House of Commons, and are members of parliament (M.P.s) or senators.

• The members of cabinet are called ministers.

- The P.M. decides what portfolios to include in the cabinet and chooses cabinet ministers.

The cabinet proposes most of the ideas that become laws.

- The P.M. and the cabinet run the day-to-day business of government. For example, the Minister of Environment runs the department of the environment, which has staff and equipment to, among other things, keep track of air pollution.

THEXCEUTIVEBRANCH

THE CABINET

The cabinet includes the people with responsibility for different government departments and agencies — or portfolios — such as health, finance and environment. The members of cabinet belong to the leading political party in the House of Commons, and are members of parliament (M.P.s) or senators.

- The members of cabinet are called cabinet ministers.
- The P.M. decides what portfolios to include in the cabinet and chooses cabinet ministers.
- The cabinet proposes most of the ideas that become laws.
- The P.M. and the cabinet run the day-to-day business of government. For example, the Minister of Environment runs the department of the environment, which has staff and equipment to, among other things, keep track of air pollution.

THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

QUESTIONS

1. Who is included in the executive branch of the Federal government in Canada?
2. How do you become PM?
3. What are the 3 branches of government?

