

- Russia is now the 6th largest economy in the world
- The rise was due to high oil prices and a cheap ruble, along with important tax and banking reforms instituted by President Putin
- Poverty had declined and middle class was expanding
- Surpluses used to pay off debts and improve international financial position
- Concerns: raw materials are a large component of exports

RUSSIA IN THE 21ST CENTURY

RUSSIA IN THE 21ST

- Russia is the largest economy in the world
- The rise was due to high oil prices and a strong ruble, along with important tax and energy reforms by President Putin
- Poverty has been declining as the country expands
- Surpluses used to build up international financial reserves
- Concerns: rapid growth, dependence on exports

OTHER EXAMPLES

- China: Great Leap Forward & the Cultural Revolution
- North Korea: massive famine while building up military complex
- Venezuela: use of the economy to gain political support
- Cuba: dependence on other Communist nations – led to serious decline after end of Cold War, lack of human rights