

- A person who seeks refuge in a country because of danger or persecution in their home country
 - Save lives
 - Fulfill international commitments
 - Promote humanitarian ideals

Refugees

- The point system is part of the criteria Canada uses to decide who to accept as immigrants.
- It applies only to economic immigrants (skilled workers and professionals). Refugees and family-class immigrants do not have to qualify under the point system.
- Economic immigrants make up the biggest group of immigrants to Canada
