

Industrial Textile Revolution

- Britain takes control of the company turning India into a colony (“Raj” rule)
- Advances in technology make textile industry very important to Britain
- Need raw materials and markets to sell goods
- Cotton cloth number one export in India
- Competition for British weavers
- 1700, Granting wishes of Britain's weavers, Government bans all dyed/printed cloth from India
- Next 200 years, laws restricting textile form India
- Laws crush Indian textile industry, deindustrialize
- Indians become dependent on Britain

How to Rebel

- Indians frequently rebelled and were massacred
- Torture, mutilation and rape was common
- How do you overthrow the entire British empire?

